

“Clinical trials have positively influenced the outcomes of how we treat gastro-intestinal cancer.

Our main advances have come into practice through clinical trials, many of which have been run at the AGITG and many more require testing.”

Associate Professor Eva Segelov
MBBS (Hons1) FRACP PhD

The GI Cancer Institute is the public face of the Australasian Gastro-Intestinal Trials Group (AGITG).

The AGITG is Australia’s largest independent non-profit organisation conducting clinical trials into Gastro-Intestinal (GI) cancers. These trials aim to save, extend and provide a better quality of life for people with GI cancers, which include cancers of the oesophagus, stomach, liver, gall bladder, pancreas and bowel.

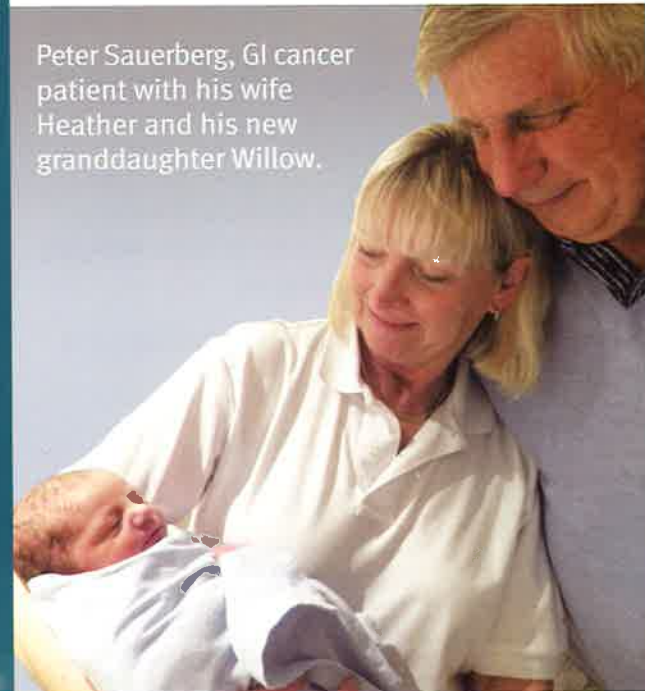

For more information, please contact Russell Conley on tel 1300 666 769 or email: russell@gicancer.org.au

www.gicancer.org.au

 GI CANCER INSTITUTE
GASTRO-INTESTINAL CANCER RESEARCH

 GI CANCER INSTITUTE
GASTRO-INTESTINAL CANCER RESEARCH

A gift in your Will Enduring impact beyond a lifetime to find a cure for cancer

Peter Sauerberg, GI cancer patient with his wife Heather and his new granddaughter Willow.

“Thanks to the GI Cancer Institute I am still alive and my greatest pleasure is spending time with my grandchildren.”

Peter Sauerberg

Leaving a gift to the GI Cancer Institute in your Will and a legacy for future generations is a very personal and extraordinary decision to make.

There are many reasons why people choose to leave a bequest to the GI Cancer Institute.

Each gift, whether large or small, makes a difference and enables cutting edge research into new treatments for patients with gastro-intestinal cancer.

If you wish to make a gift to the GI Cancer Institute please refer to the Australasian Gastro-Intestinal Trials Group (AGITG) in your Will. The GI Cancer Institute is the public face of the AGITG which is a registered charity.

If you would prefer a confidential conversation, please contact Russell Conley on tel 1300 666 769 or email: russell@gicancer.org.au

Thank you, we welcome your consideration and support.

Types of Bequests

There are a number of descriptions used when talking about the type of bequest you might consider leaving. The following are some commonly understood definitions for the way you can structure a bequest:

Specific Bequest

A gift of assets such as a home, land, money, shares, art, or other item of value.

Residual Bequest

The remainder of your estate after specific gifts have been disbursed.

Percentage Bequest

The nominated gift is a percentage of the Estate.

Pecuniary Bequest

Refers to leaving a gift of a specific dollar amount.

Information for your solicitor

Australasian Gastro-Intestinal Trials Group
ABN 34 093 854 267
Locked Bag M250 Camperdown NSW 2050

Endorsed as a deductible gift recipient
(Endorsements are entered on the public register maintained by the Australian Business Registrar at www.abr.business.gov.au)

The correct wording for your Will

It is important that the wording in a bequest clearly expresses your wishes. It is recommended that you consult your legal advisor in the preparation of your Will or amendment to your existing Will. A bequest can either be made for an unrestricted or a specific purpose.

Please ensure that your solicitor or the person preparing your Will includes the following suggested wording:

'I give to Australasian Gastro-Intestinal Trials Group ABN 34 093 854 267 (AGITG) the residue of my estate [OR] xx per cent of my estate [OR] the sum of $xx [OR] (list specific items), free of all duties and taxes, and the receipt of the secretary or other authorised officer for the time being of AGITG is an absolute discharge for my executor(s).'

